

and we may crave for someone to clog it up.

and allow each other space
when it is needed

In the strongest relationships, both are able to respect each other's independence

Knowing you are still connected.

When we aren't in a relationship
we have Lots of Space...

How to LOVE

Kilmli_eff asks:

Do you think
your partner really loves you if they ask for space?

But when we are in a relationship, this doesn't mean we need to be together all the time.

